PROVED EQUAL TO OCCASION

Super's Blunder Merely Served to Show the Resourcefulness of Hamilton Footlites.

Dewey, discussing the naval battle of Skagerrak, said at a Washington luncheon:

"A naval officer, to succeed, must be very quick-witted and resourceful. In fact, he must be like Hamilton Footlites."

"Ham Footlites leaned on the rail of his sea-going yacht musingly about love while the blue waves rolled and heaved splendidly, each blue wave being a super under a roll of canvas. But the waves were here and there threadbare, and suddenly a wave ripped and a head bobbed up in the midst of the heaving sea and stared around in bewildered fashion.

"Ham Footlites silenced the audience's titters with one stern glance. 'Man overboard!' he yelled in stentorian tones.

"Then the super, managing to draw back his head through the hole in the wave, disappeared. Ham Footlites heaved a stormy sigh.

"Another victim seized by the relentless sea, alas," he said."

Electric Chair.

He might object to the use of his name, but his initials are F. G. Z. Because he is a salesman he contends he has the right to loaf in various downtown business houses. That is he thought so until a visit in an electrical shop several days ago. He sat in the accustomed chair for a good rest when a stinging sensation caused him to rise. The clerks had become tired of their visitor and had wired the chair so that the pressure of a button behind the counter would shock the person in the chair. F. G. Z. is careful where he loafs now, especially where he sits.

Kidney Disorder

(BY DR. V. M. PIERCE.)

The most simple methods are usually the most effective ones when treating any disorder of the human system. The mere drinking a cup of hot water each morning, plenty of pure water all day, and a little Anuric before every meal has been found the most effective means of overcoming kidney trouble. Death would occur if the kidneys did not work day and night in separating poisons and uric acid from the blood. The danger signals are backache, depression, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints or gout.

Since it is such a simple matter to step into your favorite drug store and obtain Anuric, anyone who earnestly desires to regain health and new life will waste no time in beginning this treatment.

OKLAHOMA WOMEN SHOULD TAKE THIS ADVICE

Milburn, Okla.—"I can truthfully say that I do not think there is any medicine on the market today better than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery. I feel that I owe my life to same. About seventeen years ago I was run down in health, the principal trouble was irregularity, and my lungs seemed affected. After taking six bottles each of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' I was entirely well. I never fail to recommend them."—MRS. EVA PHEMISTER, Route 1, Box 39.

In Woman's Realm

Nothing but the One-Piece Frock Seems to Satisfy the Majority of Women Today—All Kinds of Supple Materials Employed in Its Making—Luxurious Bags a Feature of Dress Accessories.

All at once all the women, from Maine to California, have waked up to find themselves inspired by a single thought, and that is a desire for a one-piece frock "a la chemise." With one accord they are demanding straight-hanging gowns with little or no definition at all at the waistline.

Very soft satin, crepe georgette, or other supple materials are demanded for these frocks, which would not be graceful in any other sort of fabric. The shapeliness of the one-piece frock and all the shop windows are featuring them.

No one is satisfied with just one example of the fine art of needlework as it appears in these lovely conceits, and there are all sorts of bags for all sorts of purposes. Those for wear with afternoon gowns and those for shopping are larger than the gay and much-ornamented little vanity bags that might stand for a smile translated into satin and gold lace, they are so pleasing. No one need worry this year as to the depends upon its tendency to cling to the wearer's figure. Hence the supple materials used and the devices for weighting these. This is managed in the trimmings.

It would be hard to find a better example of the chemise dress than that shown in the picture. Developed in gray or other quiet colors it is beautiful for daytime wear, and made up in evening shades it is charming for evening. As shown in the picture it is made of gold-colored crepe embroidered with silver beads and trimmed with bands of Belgian hare.

For afternoon a frock of gray georgette embroidered with steel beads might be banded with Belgian hare or dyed wolf, and the same decoration would look well on a black crepe model. "Blue" wolf, which is a bluish gray, harmonizes with many of the most acceptable Christmas gift; just chose a bag of some kind and rest easy.

Velvet, brocade, satin, crochet work and beads are all impressed into service for making bags. Chinese, Japanese and other embroideries contribute additional materials, and among the handsomest bags are those made of pieces of old Paisley shawls combined with velvet. The most popular of all the many different styles are bags made of black velvet or black satin, embroidered with steel beads. Steel bead fringes and tassels finish them.

Unless they are made at home, so that the price of labor is eliminated, these necessities of the woman of fashion are costly. Those of beadwork especially proclaim the value of time consumed in making them, and range in price from $15 to $100. Black vel-fashionable colors, and bands of Hudson seal with all of them. When the frock is weighted with bandings of fur or satin the embroidery may be done in heavy silk, and it is very simple.

In the picture a girdle of the material is adjusted a very little below the waistline, and there are long, narrow ends of crepe finished with silver ornaments. But the girdle hardly interferes at all with the long straight lines which evidence the strongest tendency in this season's styles.

Beautiful bags are the fad of the hour. There appears to be a longing in the heart of every woman for at least one of these chic accessories of dress. A saunter along any fashionable promenade or any sort of excursion into the world of social activities reveals a parade of luxurious bags,

DO IT NOW, GOOD WATCHWORD

Habit of Procrastination Has Never Yet Failed to Bring Train of Evils in Its Wake.

"Sometime" is a useful word that is often overworked, remarks the Milwaukee Journal. One says, "Sometime I will do it," but the time never comes. Sometime is no time when a kind deed is to be done. Sometime is no time when a definite task is to be done. A thing put off beyond its rightful time encroaches on time allotted by right to other duties. One may think he is gaining time by postponing the duty of the hour. In fact, he is wasting time. "Tomorrow" and ever "tomorrow" has been the ruin of many. Do now the thing that should be done now. Have you had a quarrel, and are you ready for reconciliation? Do not postpone it. The other person may get hardened in his views and become unwilling to be reconciled. He may die and leave to you a lasting regret that you had not made friends. Would you help someone? Do not wait till help is past being help. Put off till "tomorrow" mending the fence, and your neighbor's cattle will have found the weak place and made havoc with your grain. Put off paying your insurance, and perhaps a fire will destroy all you have. Debts do not grow less by postponing payment. "Do it now" is a good watchword. Say the kind word, do the kind deed, perform the duty of the hour.

No Bungalow for Him.

Retiring from active business after years of shoving schooners over the bar, the wealthy Mr. Biers considered house plans.

"Here," said the architect, "is a handsome bungalow that would be just the thing for you."

"Bungalow?"

"Yes."

"Nothing by that name, if you please," said Mr. Biers.—Newark News.

Why the Baby Cries.

Now we know why the baby cries. For a long time the cause was veiled in obscurity. It might be an inaccessible pin, or it might be the helpless discrepancy betwixt the heavenly kingdom and this world, or it might be a plain case of colic, called by what new-fangled term you please. It has been explained for George B. Hotchkiss of the University School of Commerce, addressing editors and publishers of trade journals in New York, to discover that the baby cries in order to advertise. It is the baby's effective announcement, in the imperative mood, that he wants to be taken up and petted, or he wants the moon, or he wants something else, and "he won't be happy till he gets it." There is no denying that for an infant industry the baby's advertising is a great success. Nearly every time he gets results, and the most astute and alert professional solicitor cannot show a higher percentage of success.
